G.M. chairman: firm welcomes Arab financing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Thomas A. Murphy, new chairman of General Motors, said Monday he hoped no roadblocks would be placed to hinder investment by oil-rich Arabs in the giant U.S. auto company.

"It's a free market. It's an auction market," Murphy said at a news conference. "I don't believe there's anything that should be put in the way in that category."

Murphy, who succeeded the retiring Richard C. Gerstenberg as chairman of the world's biggest auto company, said GM has stockholders all over the world and having shareholders in the Arab oil-producing nations would not make any differences to the company.

Arthur Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and a powerful economic adviser in the Ford administration, said Friday he would oppose investment of Arab "petrodollars" in strategic U.S. industries. But Burns said he would not oppose Arab investment in companies such as Quaker Oats.

Lockheed Aircraft Corp. revealed during the weekend that it had rejected an offer of $100 million in Arab money.

Murphy, who assumed the GM chairmanship Monday blamed "gloom and doom talk" about a depression for the lack of consumer confidence in the economy and for sagging car sales.

In a rare criticism of a fellow auto executive, Murphy said that Henry Ford II, who last week said the economy was on the verge of a depression, was spreading pessimism.

Asked if he thought Ford, chairman of Ford Motor Co., were guilty of doom and gloom talk, Murphy said, "Yes. I wouldn't say we're on the verge of a depression. I'm sure there's going to be a turnaround, but I can't say exactly when."

HHH's advice to auto industry: cut prices

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., today offered the automotive industry some advice on how to end the current slump in car sales.

"Cut the price."

Humphrey said the Democratic-controlled Congress would not approve a proposed new gas tax until a number of other measures were taken to meet the energy crisis, including the elimination of oil depletion allowances and imposing taxes on large cars.

He called the oil depletion allowance "the greatest economic ripoff in the nation's history."

Humphrey, chairman of the joint congressional Economic Committee, zeroed in on the automobile industry as a major offender during a news conference.

He said he would insist on a tax on cubic displacement and horsepower of cars before considering a new gasoline tax.

"The automobile industry knows how

Government to sell gold at auction

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Treasury Secretary William E. Simon announced today the government would sell 2 million ounces of gold to private purchasers on Jan. 6.

The sale will come six days after the removal of restrictions on private ownership of gold by Americans, in effect since 1934.

Simon told the House Banking and Currency Committee that the gold would be sold in 400-ounce bars only, and that future smaller sales from the nation's 276 million-ounce gold stockpile might be made at later dates.

He said President Ford had agreed to the sale, which will be held by the General Services Administration.

Simon said the auction is needed to offset increased import demand for gold, which he said "would tend to lower the value of the U.S. dollar relative to other currencies and would thus tend to increase the dollar prices of the goods we import and of the types of production we export."

Simon said the GSA will issue the formal invitation to bid in about 10 days, using procedures like those used by the government in the past when it sold some of its silver stocks.

HIGH SEAS BATTER NEW ENGLAND COAST

Water spills over sea wall and the hood of a stranded car Monday as winds up to 50 miles per hour and heavy seas pound the New England coastline off Winthrop, Mass.

Death toll mounts as storm drives eastward

By United Press International

A storm that carried its fury from the Midwest to the East Coast left more than 35,000 persons stranded today.

Michigan officials called the snow storm the worst since 1886. National Guard heavy equipment was mobilized in western Maryland and several communities were virtually isolated in Pennsylvania.

The story was the same in parts of Ohio, West Virginia and Virginia.

The American Red Cross estimated 35,000 stranded in Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Maryland, and reports indicated thousands more were trapped by snow-blocked highways in other states.

In southwest Virginia, two persons froze to death. More than 18 inches of snow blanketed parts of the state.

Dozens more died across the storm front in weather-related traffic accidents. In Michigan alone, 27 persons died of heart attacks suffered while shoveling snow.

Many homes and other buildings were left without power, schools and shops were closed, and for the first time in its history, the Detroit Daily News — the nation's largest afternoon newspaper — was unable to publish because it could not deliver its papers.

The snowstorm in the eastern coal fields also prevented about half of 120,000 striking coal miners from voting on a new contract Monday, and United Mine Workers President Arnold Miller extended the voting through 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Light snow continued to fall in western Maryland Monday night on top of 30 inches already on the ground.

Most roads were open, but state police with the aid of 15 National Guard trucks worked Monday night to clear 20 miles of U.S. Route 20 from Frostburg in western Allegany County west to Keyzers Ridge.

"We don't know how many people are out there," Maryland state police spokesman Bill Clark said. "It's a tedious thing to get by blocked cars and the rescue operation is going slowly."

Detroit received 18.9 inches of snow, and hundreds of schools and thousands of offices, banks, stores and plants were closed. Some companies even bought radio time to tell workers to stay home.

Helicopters circling over Ann Arbor, Mich., said it looked like a ghost town. Detroit police said the storm even put crime at a standstill, with the city going 42 hours without a homicide.

The bloodless period ended with a shooting Monday night — in an argument over a parking space.

Angry over his 'indiscretions'

Colleagues in move to replace Mills

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Wilbur Mills once was known as the intellectual giant of the House of Representatives, a powerful man who held the country's tax laws in his grip and who could force presidents to come begging to him, hat in hand.

Now, friends and enemies alike are asking why he could not cope with a simple little sex scandal.

Openly his colleagues wonder about his mental health, and fledgling movements are afoot to attempt the unthinkable — remove him next January as the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Already the Democratic Caucus has removed the Ways and Means Committee's powers to make House committee assignments, and it is likely the committee will be expanded so that it can be packed with liberal Democrats.

This might well have happened anyway, but Mills' trip to Boston last weekend to appear on stage with stripper Fanne Foxe, "the Tidal Basin Bombshell," sealed his committee's fate.

Ways and Means Democrats were angry, especially the southerners.

Back home in Arkansas, the state's largest newspaper, the Arkansas Gazette, editorially called on Mills either to "forego his public indiscretions" or resign.

The Gazette echoed a theme heard often through the halls of Congress: Mills was forgiven for the original Tidal Basin incident in which Miss Foxe jumped from his car, intoxicated, and dived into the Tidal Basin, a backwater of the Potomac River, but he "will find no such spirit of forgiveness now" after his appearance on stage in Boston.

"It's a matter of judgment and mental balance," said one southern Democrat.

Mills, looking tired and drawn, spent most of Monday in the ornate Ways and Means Committee room in the Capitol, occasionally going to the House floor where the Democratic Caucus met, but not making any speeches.

Reporters, who for years hung on every Mills utterance on taxes and trade, quietly came and went asking questions of a different sort.

Why did he go to Boston?

"I just wanted to dispel all those innuendoes about us," he said, adding, "If I was keeping a girl, I sure wouldn't advertise it like that."

What was his relationship with her? Only a family friend, no sexual relations, he insisted, although, "I suppose at my age I should be flattered that anyone thinks that."

In New York, where Miss Foxe began a week's engagement Monday, she said she had not approved of Mills appearing on the stage with her, but, "Whenever he wants to do something he just goes in and does it. Nobody can stop him."

53 fatalities 'low' considering volume

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Fifty-three persons were killed in California traffic accidents during the four-day Thanksgiving weekend, seven more than last year's holiday period.

Resolution rushed to Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate rushed through a measure Monday asking for a temporary halt to enforcement of California's controversial requirement for anti-smog devices on used cars.

A prelude to legislative efforts next month for a rollback of the program, the resolution (SCR3) was sent to the Assembly for further consideration on a bare majority 21-9 vote. The action came barely two hours into the opening day of the new session.

The measure was authored by freshman Sen. Nate Holden, D-Culver City. With the help of other Los Angeles-area legislators, he overcame opposition and parliamentary roadblocks to push the measure through on the same afternoon he was sworn in, a highly unusual feat.

It was aimed specifically at the six-county South Coast Air Basin, which includes smoggy Los Angeles, where owners of 1966-70 cars must have the $35 devices installed on a month-by-month basis depending on the last digit of the license plate.

The program went into effect last September, beginning with license digit 1. October was the deadline for number 2, November for 3, and so on.

Holden's resolution asked the Highway Patrol not to enforce the requirements until the legislature can consider a "remedial" repeal of the law. He said that would take about 60 days.

Violators are subject to a mandatory $50 fine, but it has been the patrol's policy until this month to issue warnings.

Patrol Commissioner Dan Lanza said in an interview that if the Assembly agreed to the resolution, the patrol probably would refrain from giving tickets but continue to hand out warnings.

Holden called the requirements unfair to residents of Los Angeles and low-income persons who typically drive used cars. He said the added burden on car engines caused by the devices accounts for consumption of 200,000 extra gallons of gasoline each day.

The anti-smog devices, which can be installed only at state authorized garages, are designed to cut emissions of nitrogen oxide, a prime component of California's smog.

Besides the monthly installation requirements for the South Coast Air Basin, drivers throughout the state must fit their cars with the devices before they can be registered to a new owner.

Bills to repeal the monthly installation requirement in the South Coast counties — including all or part of Los Angeles, Riverside, Ventura, Orange, San Bernardino and Santa Barbara — were introduced by Holden, Sen. Omer L. Rains, D-Ventura, and Assemblyman Bob McLennan, R-Downey.

Ford spurns 20-cent gas tax hike; feels shortages unlikely

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford has ruled out a 20-cent-a-gallon hike in the federal gasoline tax and says he sees little likelihood of another oil shortage like last winter's.

In a nationally telecast news conference Monday night, Ford said he opposed increasing the gasoline tax right now in favor of cutting overall consumption.

He said 81 per cent of the American public was against higher gasoline taxes and that Congress probably wouldn't pass it anyway.

"I really don't think a 20-cent-per-gallon increase in the gasoline tax will go through the Congress, even if I recommend it," Ford said. "So its my judgment that if we have to, by taxation, cut down on consumption, there must be a better way to do it."

Ford borrows from FDR on fears of depression

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a paraphrase of Franklin D. Roosevelt's inaugural reassurance of 40 years ago, President Ford says the worst thing Americans have to fear is fear that a depression awaits America.

"Our greatest danger today is to fall victim to the more exaggerated alarms that are being generated about the underlying health and strength of our economy," he told a news conference Monday night.

"We are going to take some lumps and bumps," he added, "but with the help of Congress and the American people we are perfectly able to cope with our present and foreseeable economic problems."

Ford said times are nowhere near as desperate as 1933, when FDR said "The only thing we have to fear is fear itself."

But the prepared statement he read at his news conference was blunter than usual in acknowledging both the depths of America's economic troubles and the depths of Americans' misgivings about the future.

The President gave no indication that he is about to reshape the economic proposals he personally presented to Congress Oct. 8.

Critics say they are geared to fighting inflation and showed too little concern with coping with recession.

Until a few weeks ago, Ford's official line was that the United States was not in a recession.

But Monday he said recession "is a serious threat that already has hurt many citizens and alarms many more."

Recent polls show public confidence in the economy has slumped since Ford entered the presidency.

School board to choose from two tax hike plans

A base revenue limit increase of $239 per pupil was agreed to in principle by the board members at the Monday meeting of Chaffey Union High School District Board of Education. The present limit is $1,228.24 per pupil per year.

The board directed the district's business manager, J. Milo Thomas, to draft two tax proposals for the board's choice at a special meeting to be held next Monday evening. One proposition would be for an average figure covering the next three years while the other would be in three steps with a slightly different sum yearly. Both plans would equal the same amount of tax increase over a three-year period, estimated to be about 51 cents per $100 assessed valuation. One of the plans will be presented to voters in March.

The projected additional financial needs over the next three years for the regular program is $9,771,915. In addition the district has estimated a need of an additional $3,357,900 for building improvements. These would cost tax payers an estimated additional 24 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The board agreed with a number of citizens in the audience that the building improvements program needs more careful study before next week in the hope that the amount requested could be reduced. Board members said that the funds needed for the regular program could not be cut without making drastic alterations in the school programs.

C. E. Jones, chairman of the citizens' committee which has been studying the need for a base revenue limit increase election, told the board that the group is in agreement with the administration as to the need for raising the additional $9 million for regular programs. Several members of the committee expressed their doubt that the additional $3.3 million for building would be received favorably by the voters.

Bob Haage, chairman of the certificated employees' negotiating council and a history teacher at Montclair High School, asked the board to postpone the tax override election until the final election date, May 27. He suggested that the election of board members, to take place in March, should be separated from the tax election and that it would give the district more time to assess economic trends.

Supt. Allan G. Smith, noted that the district must know if it will have the additional funds by March 15. He explained that since teachers' salaries make up about 85 per cent of the district's expenses, the number of teachers would probably be cut if the issue failed, and teachers, by law, must be notified by March 15 if they are not going to be rehired.

A revised schedule of the number of uniforms allowed each school was accepted by the board, based on school enrollment. Schools with under 2,000 students would be allowed 100 uniforms plus director and drum major uniforms; schools with 2,000 to 2,700 students would receive 123 plus director and drum major uniforms (only Chaffey High School) with over 2,700 students would be allowed 150 plus director and drum major. All schools would be allowed 50 uniforms at half allowance.

Board moves to bill candidates for ballot info

The Walnut Valley School District Board of Trustees approved Monday night the first reading of a proposal that would allow the billing of candidates seeking election to the school board who desired to have a statement of qualifications printed on the ballot.

Candidates for board member vacancies will be charged for only those costs which have been identified as election expenses and have been charged to the district by the Los Angeles County Department of the Registrar-Recorder.

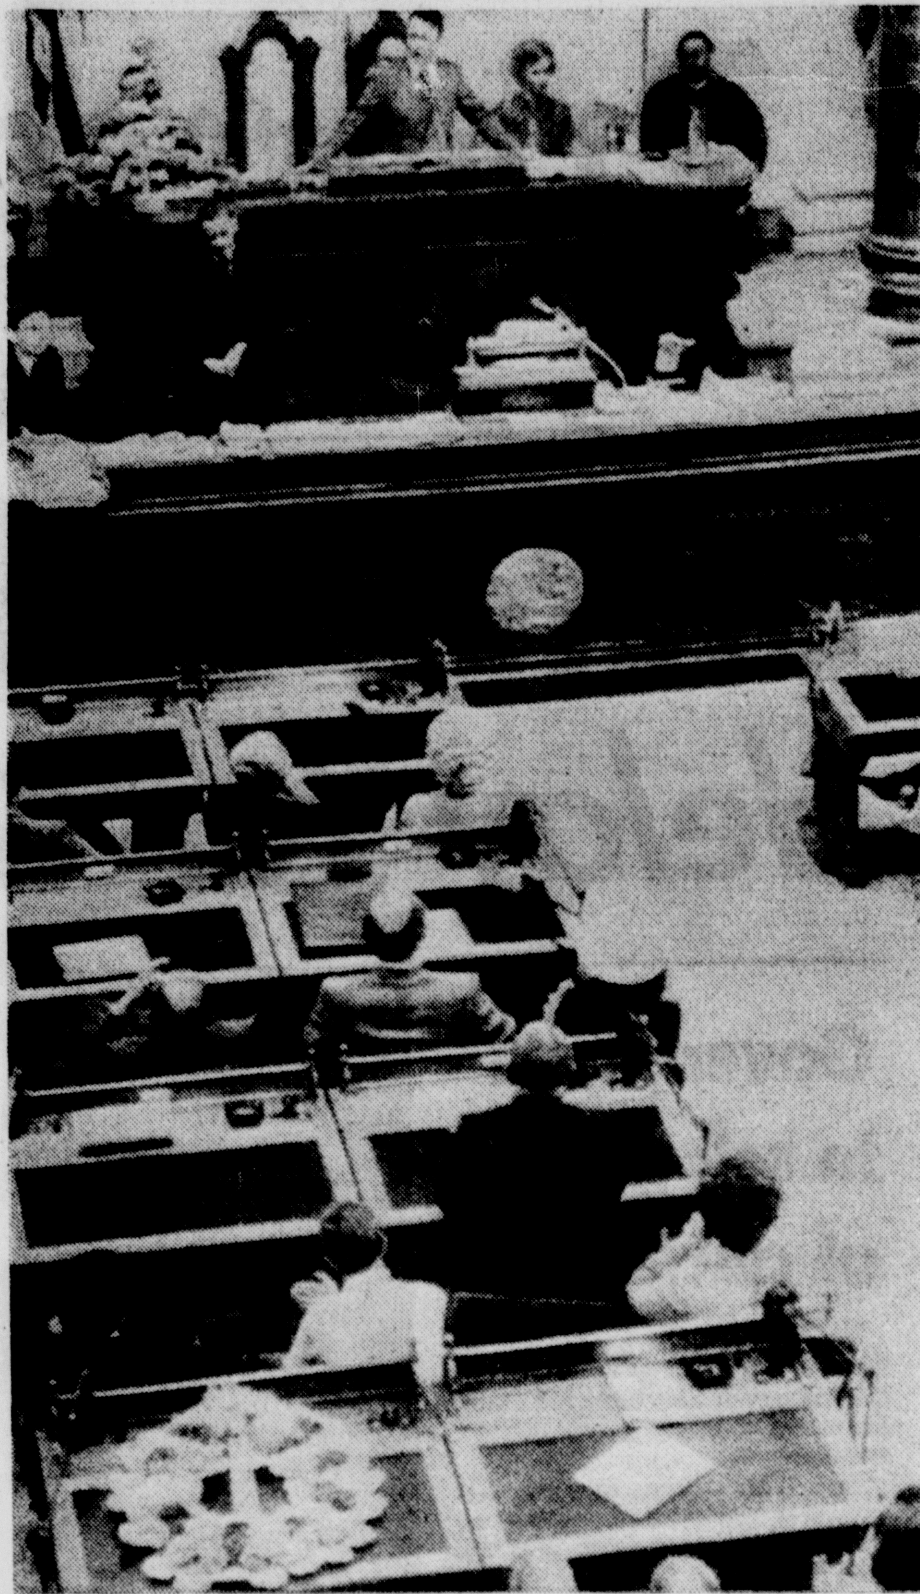

A letter will be sent to all declared candidates immediately after the close of the filing period to inform them of a policy change should this proposal be adapted at the Dec. 16 trustee meeting.

Two board seats will be up for election on March 4, 1976. Out of the five member board the seats of Frank Morales and Richard Vind will be up for election during March. Both Morales and Vind have said that they will seek re-election.

Chino councilmen postpone meeting

The regular Chino City Council meeting will be held Wednesday night instead of tonight because of the death of the wife of Councilman Ed Lynch.

The council will gather briefly this evening to adjourn the meeting to Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Alice Lynch, wife of the councilman, died of cancer Saturday at Doctors Hospital, Montclair.

IN MEMORY

Wreath (lower left) was placed on desk of Assemblyman Carlos Bee, D-Hayward, as the new session of the Assembly opened in Sacramento Monday. Bee, speaker pro-tem the past 14 years, died last Friday while visiting relatives in Texas. Addressing the Assembly from the podium is Speaker Leo T. McCarthy, D-San Francisco, who was re-elected speaker Monday.

City workers get half day off but must make it up

The La Verne City Council agreed Monday to permit closing City Hall the afternoon before Christmas, but insisted that the employees make up the time they take off.

"Some people already have compensatory time coming to them," Councilman Harrison Sanborn said. "Others will have to make it up later. If the city manager feels he can close at noon, that's fine. But the time should be made up."

He insisted that the council was not giving the employees an additional half day off but rather was providing an "accommodation."

The employees had asked for the half day so they could prepare for Christmas Eve. But the council rejected their request two weeks ago saying that the city workers already had enough time off during the year.

The employees asked the council to reconsider its decision since "business at the City Hall around Christmas was very slow."

Yielding to pressure, the council left the closing up to the discretion of City Manager George Caswell.

"But we still want to negotiate this matter next year when we have contract talks with the employees," Sanborn declared.

When those negotiations start next spring, the city employees association will find itself fewer in number. The city firemen Monday asked for, and received, recognition as a separate entity and will represent themselves at the bargaining table. The policemen already have their own organization.

Girl seriously injured by car

An 11-year-old girl was injured seriously Monday night when hit by a car as she ran across Garey Avenue near Olive Street in Pomona.

The victim, Cynthia Jean Simmons, 2441 Chanslor St., Pomona, was reported in serious condition today in Pomona Valley Community Hospital's intensive care unit. She had a broken thigh, multiple cuts and bruises and possible internal injuries.

Police reported that Cynthia and a friend had been to a store and were returning home when Cynthia ran into the path of a northbound car driven by Richard L. Crumpton, 17, of 16330 Vernon Ave., Montclair. Crumpton said he could not avoid her.

Finds proposal too vague

City delays on water rights plan

The Montclair City Council Monday night supported a decision by the Monte Vista Municipal Water District (MVMWD) to withhold support regarding the water adjudication issue for the Pomona Valley and West End areas.

The council action, with Mayor Harold Hayes attending the National League of Cities conference and Councilman Tom McClure III, passed a 3-0 vote after the motion by Councilman Paul Jones.

Ken Wright, manager of the county water district in the City of Montclair, presented information on a recent plan circulated among the various water districts and municipalities for approval. In addition to the plan calling for identification of legal rights on water issues, the legislature proposed a three-year pump tax which Wright estimated would cost each Montclair consumer $2 per year.

Wright explained that the MVMWD board had rejected the memorandum of agreement for the water adjudication and called for additional study on the matter. The board supported the concept of a limited tax, but opposed the agreement with other agencies until it has "full knowledge and understanding of the rights and liabilities" of the agencies involved, said Wright. The board expressed willingness to work with other agencies and cities until an agreement is reached.

"The documents were so general in nature that we did not have a clear understanding of what the funds would be used for," continued Wright. He foresaw a "driving necessity" for a conservation plan for the Chino Basin area.

The cost for the three-year plan would be $40,000 to Montclair. Those funds are not specifically designated to be used for a basin study plan, and could be earmarked for use on facilities.

City Atty. Eugene Demchuk reported

Umbrella time is approaching fast

It's time to gather the rain gear. An inch of rain is expected tonight and Wednesday.

Although the deep low-pressure system begins off the Washington coast the rain will come to us from the west, having changed directions off the Central California coast where the frontal system headed south and west into the ocean.

The rain is expected to end Wednesday night. By Thursday there should be partly cloudy skies and a nice weekend is forecast with warmer temperatures and clear skies.

City sees savings by running own compensation plan

The Upland City Council voted Monday night to authorize the staff to take steps necessary for the city to insure itself for Workmen's Compensation.

Self-insurance, City Manager Lee Travers explained to the council, will save money for the city because of the expense of giving Workmen's Compensation through the State Fund.

Travers said that the city can contract with a private firm to insure itself with less expense than in the existing provision with the state.

The council accepted Travers' recommendation.

It also voted to send Travers to San Francisco on Friday to attend a government information services seminar in which he may learn new techniques to get more federal aid for city projects.

Travers indicated that he wants to listen to the advice of the director of community development in Peekskill, N.Y., David A. Ornstein, who will address the topic: "How to Get Your Fair Share of Federal Aid."

In a third action, the Upland council voted to authorize Mayor Abner Halde- man to sign a letter of agreement with six other valley communities to join a 911 emergency telephone plan.

Under the agreement, the telephone company handle emergency calls to a three-digit number, 911.

The other communities joining in the agreement tentatively are Pomona, La Verne, Claremont, Chino, Ontario, and Montclair.

Two hearings on planners' agenda

Two public hearings will be conducted at the San Dimas Planning Commission meeting tonight at 7:30 in council chambers.

The first will be on a request for a zone change, from agriculture to manufacturing, on property at 327 W. Allen Ave.

The second will be to consider an amendment to the zoning ordinance regarding single family agriculture use.

The commissioners will reconsider modification of the proposed open space requirement, and hear an evaluation of the YMCA bicycle motocross which was held Nov. 24 on vacant property at 315 E. Bonita Ave.

Truck hits off-ramp fence; family okay

A truck driver from Texas, his wife and baby escaped injury early this morning when the truck and semi-trailer struck two signal standards and plowed through a chain link fence at the foot of the eastbound off-ramp at the Pomona Freeway and Milliken Avenue east of Ontario.

The victims, Sam W. Brisendine, 25, of Ft. Worth, his wife, Pamela, 25, and two-month-old daughter, Hillary, were treated for minor injuries at Chino General Hospital.

First, the 15 or more-member advisory committee would be appointed by CBMWD. Secondly, once appointed that committee could serve in an advisory capacity only and it was not necessary for the regulator to accept or follow the advisory group's recommendations. There were numerous questions and problems with both these revisions and the plan itself, concluded Demchuk.

Councilman Jones commented that the MVMWD was "working in the interests of Montclair citizens. We should go along with it's decision until we have something more concrete and less vague."

Rockefeller family wealth is $1 billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 84 members of the Rockefeller family are worth slightly more than $1 billion, family financial adviser J. Richardson Dilworth disclosed today.

Dilworth, who runs the Rockefeller family empire, told House Judiciary Committee hearings on Nelson A. Rockefeller's nomination as vice president that the family holdings total $1,033,988,000.

It was the first time in history that the family founded by oil magnate John D. Rockefeller Sr. had disclosed its net worth. Dilworth was called as a witness primarily to answer questions about a possible conflict of interest between Rockefeller's wealth and the powers of a vice president.

He said the 84 living Rockefellers have given $235 million to charity in their lifetime. This does not include the $1 billion given away by John D. Rockefeller Sr. and John D. Rockefeller Jr.

Dilworth provided no breakdown on the holdings of the individual family members. He said that would be an invasion of their right of privacy.

The bulk of the family holdings — $738 million — is in trusts set up by John D. Rockefeller Jr. for his descendants, Dilworth said. The remaining $295 million is held by the individual family members.

As expected, Dilworth said the major family investment is in Exxon, one of the companies formed when Standard Oil Co. formed by John D. Rockefeller Sr. was split up. But Dilworth added the family's $156.7 million in Exxon stock represents just over 1 percent of the total company stock.

The family's second largest holding is $98 million, or all the outstanding stock in Rockefeller Center, Dilworth said. The family also holds $84.9 million in Standard Oil of California and $72.6 million in IBM stock.

Dilworth, nephew and namesake of the former Philadelphia mayor, insisted that the goal of the Rockefeller family was to make money on their investments and not to hold economic control of major U.S. industries.

"It should be stressed that both the family members and their investment advisers are totally uninterested in controlling anything," he said. "The family members are simply investors. The aim and hope of the advisers is over time to achieve a reasonable total return for our clients."

While most of the family holdings are in stocks, Dilworth also listed $127 million in bonds and real estate totaling nearly $95 million.

Companies in which the family holds $10 million or more in stock included Chase Manhattan Bank, Mobil Oil Co., Eastman Kodak, General Electric, Texas Instruments and Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing (3M).

Dilworth said that he had received "unanimous permission" of the Rockefeller family to make public the total figures of their holdings.

"This in itself has been a unique experience since it runs so completely against the grain of what we in the office consider to be one of our major responsibilities: the preservation of the separate identity and highly personal treatment of each account," he said.

"Like other Americans, they value highly their right of personal privacy."

GREAT JUPITER

This Pioneer 11 image of Jupiter and the third Galilean satellite Ganymede, upper right, was sent to Earth before reaching its closest approach to the largest planet in the solar system Monday. The image shows how Pioneer 11 reached much higher latitudes than its predecessor Pioneer 10.

Pioneer 11 survives Jupiter's forces

... And now on to Saturn

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (UPI) — Hurling by tremendous orbital motion from its encounter with Jupiter, Pioneer 11 shot away today for the first spacecraft look at the ringed planet Saturn.

The 570-pound Pioneer swept Monday night through Jupiter's radiation belts to a point 26,000 miles from the planet's cloud tops — three times closer than Pioneer 10 dared approach last December.

Sweeping under the South Pole and out over the North Pole, Pioneer 11 demonstrated that the planet can be used as a slingshot to toss bigger spacecraft of the future out for investigations of the outer planets.

It had not been known before whether a spaceship close enough to Jupiter to catch its orbital motion could survive a radiation belt equal in power to several hydrogen bombs.

Pioneer was hit close to the planet with an intense radiation peak that lasted only a few minutes. The peak caused several dozen false commands to instruments but apparently resulted in no great damage.

A NASA official said, "Pioneer 10 tickled Jupiter's dragon's tail but Pioneer 11 flew right into the dragon's mouth. It emerged only a little singed."

At Saturn Pioneer will find a gas planet 700 times the volume of earth, yet light enough to float in water. Saturn's three rings are believed to be composed of flying rocks and ice.

Pioneer's exact course — whether it cuts between the rings or flies over them — will be decided by the space agency in a few months.

The decision to send Pioneer to Saturn was made when the spacecraft was half way to Jupiter. At that time Pioneer 10 discovered enough about Jupiter's radiation to make the risk worth while.

Pioneer 11 will reach Saturn September 5, 1979. If its nuclear power source does not decay too much, the space agency may direct the craft on a journey of a few more years to the planet Uranus.

Pioneer 10, a year after its visit to Jupiter, is cruising at a steady 45,000 miles an hour on a course which in 1987 will make it the first manmade object to leave the solar system. It is expected to broadcast at least until 1979.

Sirica suggests Nixon give written testimony

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica suggested today that written questions could be submitted to former President Richard M. Nixon if he remains too sick to testify orally in the Watergate cover-up trial.

Sirica made the suggestion following a request Monday by attorneys for defendant John D. Ehrlichman that the trial be recessed over the Christmas holidays to await a deposition or testimony from the ailing former president. Ehrlichman claims Nixon's testimony is crucial to his defense.

The suggestion came before another defendant, former White House chief of staff H.R. Haldeman, was to resume his testimony.

Sirica said he would ask a court-appointed panel of medical specialists to advise him whether Nixon was well enough to answer written questions. He also sought the reaction of lawyers involved in the trial of five former Nixon aides and indicated he was seriously considering the idea.

Chief trial prosecutor James F. Neal did not directly oppose Sirica's suggestion. But, he said, "in all frankness, we have had a number of statements from the former president on Watergate, none of which has been satisfactory to us."

The medical panel reported to Sirica last Friday after personally examining Nixon that the former president would not be well enough even to provide an oral deposition from his home in San Clemente, Calif., until Jan. 6 — after the trial was expected to be over. It said Nixon could not testify in Washington until at least Feb. 15.

Haldeman testified Monday that he failed to disclose the existence of the White House taping system to the Watergate grand jury under orders from Nixon.

"You didn't mention tapes and you hoped they wouldn't be revealed?" Assistant Watergate Prosecutor Richard Ben-Veniste said as he began what was expected to be three days of cross-examination of Haldeman.

With his mother, brother, wife and daughter in the courtroom, Haldeman replied: "I was under orders from the President of the United States at that time. It was not a matter of my hopes; it was my instructions."

Ben-Veniste pointed out that Haldeman already had resigned at the time he was questioned by the grand jury in May 1973.

"I was not employed by the President," Haldeman said. "I still considered myself subject to orders given to me during the term of my service to the President."

Sportsman wanted in slaying of wife, child still at large

Sheriff's deputies today still sought 41-year-old Robert John Rofelty in connection with the killings Sunday night in Glendora of his 13-year-old daughter and his estranged wife and the wounding of a friend of the family.

Rofelty, described as a sportsman, had access to a variety of weapons and was believed to be driving a 1969-model green Chevrolet pickup with a white camper, sheriff's deputies said.

Victims of the slayings were 13-year-old Bonnie Jeanne Rofelty and her mother, Mrs. Jeanne Rofelty, 38. Craig D. Carroll, 38, of 532 Mountain View Drive, Glendora, was wounded.

Deputies said two other Rofelty children, Robert, 15, and Arlene, 11, both fled out a back door when they heard the father enter the house at 5838 Prospero Ave., shortly after 8 o'clock. They said that in the ensuing fusillade of shots, Bonnie Jeanne was killed outright, Mrs. Rofelty was wounded fatally and Carroll was wounded in the face, neck and hands. His condition today was reported fair at County-USC Medical Center.

After being shot, Carroll staggered outside the house and collapsed on the front lawn. Neighbors, who heard the shots, called police.

Authorities said that Mrs. Rofelty and the three children had moved from the family home in Glendora to the Prospero Avenue address three weeks ago as the result of family problems. They said Rofelty had gone there several times and had beaten Mrs. Rofelty. One reported indicated that Carroll was there to protect her.

2 men arrested in robbery of $300 gold coin

Two Upland robbery suspects were nabbed by police aided by witnesses Monday moments after an Ontario coin shop was robbed at gunpoint of a $300 gold coin.

Hel on robbery bookings today in West End Jail are Gregory Gene Helman, 19, of 2422 N. Euclid Ave., and Richard A. Olsen, 23, of 1553 W. Seventh St.

Police said a young man armed with a .45-caliber pistol took a $5 golf piece valued at $300 from Mrs. Micksa Stephens, owner of Stephens Coin Shop at 127 N. Lemon St., Monday afternoon.

As the gunman fled from the store, Mrs. Stephens yelled at a customer entering and a passer-by who chased the bandit as she hit a silent alarm button summoning police.

The gunman leaped into a sports car driven by an accomplice at Holt Boulevard and Lemon moments before police arrived. Witnesses described the car, license number and occupants to officers and the suspects' auto was stopped at D Street and Mountain Avenue six minutes later.

Detectives Rick Cypher and Roger Remlinger said they recovered a pistol and the gold coin when the pair was arrested.

Man jailed after dropping loaded gun in hospital ward

A Pomona man was arrested on charges of carrying a loaded and concealed pistol in the pediatrics ward of Pomona Valley Community Hospital Monday afternoon.

The suspect, Meldon Whitworth, 22, of 578 Curran Place, was seized by Pomona police det. Jerry Uribe after Uribe was told that a pistol had fallen from Whitworth's waistband. The weapon was a loaded, .32-caliber automatic.

Uribe was in the pediatrics ward of the hospital investigating a case of alleged child beating which occurred Sunday night. Whitworth is a friend of the victim's family, officers said.

The gunman was described as Caucasian, about 18 years old and 5 feet 10. He weighed 140 pounds, had brown hair and a thin mustache and goatee. He wore a light-blue shirt, faded blue jeans and a green jacket.

Britain will cut spending for defense

LONDON (UPI) — A British government beset by economic crisis said today it is slashing defense spending by $10.9 billion in the next 10 years.

It said it will pull out most British forces east of Suez except Hong Kong, where it will keep a reduced garrison.

It said it will open negotiations with South Africa to end the 19-year-old agreement under which Britain has use of the Simonstown naval base in return for selling warships and other arms to the South African government.

It announced cuts in troop strength in Cyprus and on the fringes of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization area.

But, unveiling the cuts to Parliament, Defense Secretary Roy Mason said "NATO is the linch pin of British security and will remain the first charge on the resources available for defense."

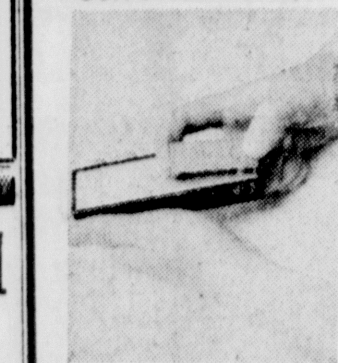

"We propose to concentrate as a first priority upon those areas in which we believe that we can most effectively contribute to the security of the Alliance and of the United Kingdom itself," Mason said.

He said these critical strategic areas consist of NATO's Central Region in Europe, the sea and air defenses of the eastern Atlantic and the English Channel, the defenses of the United Kingdom itself and its actual approaches.

Mills, McCarthy retain posts

Legislature leadership fight bitter

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — More storm clouds loomed today in the aftermath of a bitter but abortive fight to depose Senate leader James R. Mills and Assembly Speaker Leo T. McCarthy.

In the Assembly, McCarthy showed no sign of adopting a "forgive and forget" attitude toward challenger Willie Brown Jr., a fellow San Francisco Democrat.

In the Senate, Randolph Collier, 73, crusty dean of the legislature was reported to be targeted for removal as chairman of the powerful Finance Committee and given back the chairmanship of the Transportation Committee.

At the start of the new legislative session on Monday McCarthy staved off a second run by Brown to oust him as the most powerful figure in the legislature while Mills easily survived a similar assault by Sen. George Zenovich of Fresno. All are Democrats.

After the showdown vote behind closed doors in the Assembly Democratic caucus, Brown, who had the support of minority Republican refused to rule himself out for a possible future challenge but told newsmen he was through "for the moment."

"I'm going to cool off and allow 24 hours to go by before I think of doing anything different than before," McCarthy told reporters who asked about what plans he had for Brown and the Republicans.

"But," he added acidly, "I can't look kindly about someone trying to take a small number of Democrats and joining with Republicans to elect a speaker."

It takes 41 votes in the Assembly to choose a speaker, and the divided Democrats total 54. Brown would have had to receive the support of 16 Democrats plus the 25 Republicans to oust McCarthy.

McCarthy succeeded Democrat Bob Moretti as speaker last June following Moretti's unsuccessful bid for governor. At the time, he defeated Brown by two votes in the Democratic caucus.

He subsequently fired Brown as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and later removed the black legislator from the committee entirely.

On Monday, the Democrats voted 42-0 to retain McCarthy, a razor-thin margin of one. Twelve Democrats abstained, most supporters of Brown.

The Democrats then adopted a "policy" position which had the effect of endorsing McCarthy for a full two-term. The vote was 36 for McCarthy, 12 against and six abstentions. At that point, Brown dropped his campaign, saying he couldn't ask his Democratic supporters to vote for him in the face of the official caucus position for McCarthy.

A few minutes later, McCarthy was elected to the Finance Committee where spending bills and the state budget are considered and written.

Sen. Anthony Beilenson, D-Los Angeles, was mentioned by legislative sources as a possible successor to Collier. Sources also said Collier apparently would not object to chairing the Transportation Committee, which he previously headed for years.

Beilenson last summer led a Senate attack on a so-called "pork barrel" state budget written by a conference committee which Collier chaired. The budget was rejected and rewritten, a major blow to Collier's political prestige.

could set up his clubs. Unfortunately for that purpose, he was going to run out of time. West would get his spades set up first.

He Counted only four losers in case the spades were going to break 4-4 but he knew that a suit breaks 4-4 only about 33 per cent of the time.

He Counted eight top winners for himself and saw that he could score a ninth, if he finessed successfully for the queen of hearts. That 50 per cent chance was certainly better than a 33 per cent one. But he finally saw a better play.

He led his nine of hearts and let it ride. It forced East's queen and south had his ninth trick. Suppose it had lost to the 10?

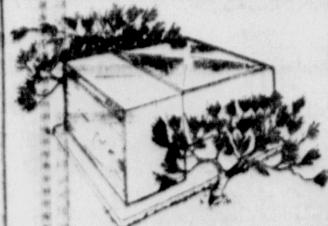

Then South would still have the finesse against the queen left.

Good ole days

In 1834, Delmonico's, one of New York City's finest restaurants, advertised a meal of soup, steak, and half a pie for 12 cents. Dinner for two was served for 25 cents, the extra penny providing for a second cup of coffee.

SWORD OF HONOR — A stunned Lt. Phillip Nolan, played by Cliff Robertson, accepts a sword from a U.S. Navy officer for bravery Nolan displayed in a sea battle. The scene is from the ABC-TV special, "The Man Without a Country," to be broadcast at 8:30 Friday night.

Singer schedules shows at Pavilion

Columbia recording star Vikki Carr will present her "One Hell of a Woman" concert in the Pavilion of the Los Angeles Music Center Dec. 28-31.

Miss Carr previewed the show last week in a White House performance at a formal state dinner. She will present eight performances, including 2:30 matinees, Dec. 28 and 29.

Appearing with her will be her recent discovery, Mexican-American comedian Hank Garcia; the Stan Farber Singers, and a 35-piece orchestra conducted by Bob Florence.

The international star will sing most of the numbers which are part of the personal "story of a woman" theme, as contained in her new Columbia album, "One Hell of a Woman," as well as selections in Spanish and a medley of such hits as "With Pen in Hand," "It Must Be Him" and "Wind Me Up."

Mail orders are now being accepted for Miss Carr's Music Center debut. She last performed in Los Angeles 18 months ago at the Greek Theater.

Parade of Lights to be held in downtown Los Angeles Dec. 14

The third annual La Fiesta de Los Angeles Grand Historical Illuminated Night Parade will be held in downtown Los Angeles starting at 6 p.m. Dec. 14.

More popularly known as the "Parade of Lights," the two-hour procession will salute California's heritage with its theme of "1849 The Golden Era."

The parade is sponsored by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce and supported by the Los Angeles business community, as well as Los Angeles city and county governments.

It was initiated in 1972 to instill pride in the heritage of Los Angeles and surrounding areas.

This year's parade will feature brightly illuminated floats, marching bands, colorful equestrian units, an array of horsedrawn carriages and noted personalities from government and the world of entertainment.

The parade will begin at the corner of Broadway and

First Street in downtown Los Angeles. It will proceed south on Broadway to Seventh Street and then west on Seventh to Hope Street.

The "Parade of Lights" is the focal point of the "La Fiesta" celebration period in Los Angeles. During the week of Dec. 16-20, free public entertainment will be on view at the Music Center Plaza, Los Angeles city and county malls, Pershing Square, Olvera Street and the Atlantic Richfield and Broadway Plazas.

The entire parade will be telecast by television station KTLA in Los Angeles.

Heisman goes to Griffin

NEW YORK (UPI) — Archie Griffin of Ohio State, the most consistent runner in collegiate history, today was named winner of the Heisman Trophy as the outstanding player in the nation and became the first junior to win college football's most coveted award since 1963.

Griffin, who becomes the first junior since Navy's Roger Staubach in 1963 to capture the Heisman Trophy, received 483 first place votes and 1,920 points in a balloting of selected sports writers and sportscasters from across the nation to beat out Anthony Davis of Southern California.

Davis, a senior, got 120 first place votes and 819 points to finish well ahead of the third place finisher, junior Joe Washington of Oklahoma. Tom Clements of Notre Dame was fourth followed by David Humm of Nebraska.

Rounding out the top 10 were Dennis Franklin of Michigan, Rod Snoate of Oklahoma, Gary Sheide of Brigham Young, Randy White of Maryland and Steve Bartkowski of California.

Griffin, a 5-foot-9, 184-pound tailback who has started since his freshman year, has been the epitome of consistency over the last two years, establishing an NCAA record by rushing for over 100 yards in 22 consecutive games. This season the native of Columbus, Ohio, finished second nationally in rushing average with 147.3 yards per game and his 6.9 average per carry was the best in the country.

Overall, Griffin gained 1,743 yards, including 52 yards on pass receptions and 71 on kickoff returns. He also scored 12 touchdowns in leading the Buckeyes to the Big Ten Conference title and a berth in the Rose Bowl.

Griffin is the fourth Ohio State player to win the Heisman Trophy but the first since Howard "Hopalong" Cassidy in 1955. Les Horvath in 1944 and Vic Janowicz in 1950 were other Buckeye winners.

He is the fifth underclassmen to capture the award, with Janowicz, Staubach, Doc Blanchard of Army (1945) and Doak Walker of SMU (1948) the others. All were juniors and none ever repeated.

"I never thought I'd be in this situation, right here. I never thought I'd win," said Griffin. "I want to thank Coach (Woody) Hayes and especially my linemen. I still say I've got the greatest line in the country."

Griffin was the leading vote-getter in each section of the country. Davis, the Pacific 8 all-time leading rusher and scorer, was the runnerup in three of the five geographical sections, while Washington finished second in the mid-west and southwest regions.

Griffin will be meeting Davis in head-to-head competition on Jan. 1 when Ohio State and Southern Cal clash in the Rose Bowl.

Davis, a 5-foot-9, 183-pound senior tailback who dazzled a national television audience last Saturday by accounting for 234 yards and four touchdowns against Notre Dame was too late with that performance to influence most of the voting crowd. He finished seventh in the nation in rushing this season with an average of 123.1 yards per game, but he was among the leaders in scoring with 110 points.

As an all-purpose performer, however, he had few equals. Overall, he gained 1,917 yards from rushing, returns, pass receptions and passing. He was especially dangerous as a kickoff returner, and although most teams tried to keep the ball away from him, he managed to amass 467 yards on just 11 returns. His biggest return came against Notre Dame last Saturday when he ran the second half kickoff back 100 yards for a score that paved the way for a 55-24 Trojan victory.

Tournament action should be interesting

Oh boy, it's basketball tournament time again.

And as usual, this valley will supply a lot of that kind of competition.

A total of three quality high school tournaments will be staged in the valley again this year, with the first one already underway today at Upland and Montclair gymnasiums. That one, obviously, is the 15th annual Upland-Montclair Tournament.

The two others come later in the year — the third annual San Dimas Tournament of Champions on Dec. 17-20 and the 34th annual Chino Tournament on Dec. 26-30.

Two of them — the U-M and Chino Tournaments — feature mostly the local teams, while San Dimas' T of C gathers the top teams in both Southern and Northern California.

There's one thing about tournaments that make the basketball season interesting: You get to see a lot of basketball without going anywhere. And if you're a basketball fan, you can't beat that.

San Antonio League fans, for instance, can get a preview of what their league will be like this year if they attend the Upland-Montclair Tournament. Six of the eight teams from the SAL are competing in the tourney, with only Damien and Chino not included.

The matchup in the finals of the U-M Tournament for the past two years have been just super, with Garey knocking Ganesha two years ago and Ganesha dropping Azusa last year.

Garey has to be the heavy favorite to win it again this year, since the Vikings are returning four of the five starters from last year and one transfer who was ineligible for varsity due to a residence rule.

It doesn't look like too many teams will be able to stay with the Vikings. They opened the tourney today at 3:15 p.m. against Nogales, one of the two new teams in the tourney, at Upland High. The other afternoon game in the Highlander gym matched Pomona against Wilson at 4:45 p.m.

Claremont, the other topseeded team in this year's classic, also opened at 3:15 p.m. against Charter Oak at Montclair High. Ganesha was scheduled to face Northview in the other early game (4:45 p.m.) in the Cavaliers' arena.

Tonight at Upland, Alta Loma and Eisenhower tangle at 6:30 p.m. and co-host Upland battles Ontario at 8 p.m.

At Montclair tonight, Bonita faces Duarte at 6:30 p.m. and co-host Montclair takes on last year's runnerup Azusa at 8 p.m.

Ganesha is the defending champion, but the Giants suffered too much of a loss last June at the graduation ceremonies. You can expect to see Garey and Claremont in the finals.

Bonita might have been considered a contender, but the Bearcats still have the nucleus of their team still playing football.

Ontario and Pomona will probably be the only threats to Garey in the upper bracket.

Believe it or not, the San Dimas Tournament may be the best ever in its three-year existence. There will be a total of six All-Americans competing in the classic, two more than any other year.

Oakland Tech, the Northern California defending champion, and Verbum Dei, the CIF 4-A defending champion, are the favorites to take it this year. Tech will be bringing down two All-Americans in Northern Doc Shavers and Perry Wolf.

Verbum Dei is returning almost its entire team from last year, including All-Americans David Greenwood and Roy Hamilton.

Garey is entered in that tournament and should be a strong representative from the valley.

What should draw even more interest to the tournament is that it's being staged at La Verne College's new Super Tent this year — something you don't want to miss.

Obviously, it looks like Verbum Dei and Oakland Tech in the finals — and what a final game that would be!

Braves obtain Allen

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The Atlanta Braves, who recently moved along their No. 1 slugger, Hank Aaron, picked up one of baseball's top other ones today when they obtained "retired" Dick Allen from the Chicago White Sox for an unspecified amount of cash and a player to be named later.

Ironically, a "player to be named later" also figured in the Aaron deal when the Braves sent their all-time home run king to the Milwaukee Brewers a month ago. That player was designated only Monday as pitcher Roger Alexander.

Allen, 32-year-old "bad boy" of the White Sox, retired to all intents and purposes early last September. In a rather emotional display, he announced he was finished with baseball and said farewell to all his White Sox teammates.

He never filed for voluntary retirement as required by the rules, however, and as time passed it became more and more apparent that there was a possibility he might return.

Allen earns $200,000 annually and had one more year to go on a three-year contract with the White Sox. The Braves undoubtedly will have to meet the terms of that contract.

Although he played only 128 games last year, Allen led the American League with 32 homers, finished seventh in runs batted in with 88 and also seventh in hitting with a .301 batting average. In addition, he was voted to the All-Star team.

Announcement of the deal was made jointly by Eddie Robinson, the Braves general manager, and Roland Hemond, White Sox general manager, with Robinson specifying that the deal was made "contingent on Allen's coming out of retirement."

The Braves did not talk with the slugger and Hemond said he has not spoken with Allen since Sept. 14, but there was every likelihood the American League's 1973 MVP will decide to return to baseball.

When he announced his retirement, he turned to operating his race horses which were not particularly successful in recent meetings.

Technically, Allen is on the disqualified list now, but he can be reinstated by the Braves simply making application for him to play again.

Robinson said he has never met Allen, but considers him an "exciting, game-winning" who could give the Braves the kind of added punch to make them a contender next year.

In another trade this morning, the New York Mets sent relief pitcher Tug McGraw plus outfielders Don Hahn and Dave Schneck to Philadelphia for outfielder Del Unser, relief pitcher Mac Scarce and rookie catcher John Stearns.

The Californians obtained former American League stolen base king Tommy Harper from the Boston Red Sox in exchange for infielder Bob Heise in Monday's only announced deal.

Robinson added "I see the potential here for Allen to break a home run record. The way our park is structured he can hit it out any place."

Confidence is showing in Dolphins' victory

MIAMI (UPI) — The confidence that comes with two straight Super Bowl championships showed itself Monday night. The Miami Dolphins believe that when they have to produce they will.

That's the reason they played their best game of the year Monday night, a convincing 24-3 victory over the Cincinnati Bengals. The win kept Miami in a tie with Buffalo for the American Football Conference's Eastern Division lead with a 9-3 record.

"I think the Miami Dolphins play their best ball with their backs to the wall, and we certainly have our backs to the wall, don't we?" said a battered Larry Csonka after he had gained 123 yards on 13 carries against the Bengals.

"I feel it was our best performance of the year," said a pleased Coach Don Shula. "Our defense played really well and offensively we got after them."

"We haven't played consistently for a long time, but we finally put four good quarters together," Shula said.

The Dolphins took control immediately after taking the opening kickoff, marching 87 yards in 14 plays on a drive that took 8:39 minutes.

Mercury Morris finally scored on a four-yard pass from Bob Griese. Garo Yepremian added a 43-yard field goal in the second quarter to make it 10-0, but at the end of the half Horst Muhlmann hit a 29-yard field goal for Cincinnati after Bernard Jackson recovered a Morris fumble on the Dolphin 22.

The first time Miami got the ball in the second half, the Dolphins launched another long drive with Griese hitting tight end Jim Mandich for a score from four yards out. Miami added a meaningless touchdown in the last minute when Bennie Malone pranced over from the two-yard line.

The loss gives Cincinnati a 7-5 record and drops them a 1½ games behind AFC Central leader Pittsburgh, whom the Bengals play in the regular season finale. If Miami and Buffalo end up tied for the Eastern Division lead, the nod would go to the Dolphins because they have won both games with the Bills this year.

Wooden 'pleased' about openers

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES — Pleased is the favorite word in John Wooden's vocabulary.

The UCLA coach is either pleased or not pleased. Rarely does he use any other expression.

He was more pleased than not pleased at Monday's weekly basketball luncheon after his young Bruins opened their season with a pair of wins over Wichita State and DePaul.

"I was a little more pleased after Saturday's game against DePaul than I was after Friday's game," Wooden told the writers. "All in all, we showed improvements in the areas we needed it."

Wooden has even more reasons to be pleased this week as he gets his team ready to host Loyola of Chicago Friday night and Oklahoma State Saturday night.

Sophomore forward Marques Johnson, who has been sidelined with a hepatitis attack, is resuming contact workouts this week.

"He should be able to play some this weekend," Wooden said. "Needless to say, he will be a welcome addition."

Wooden said he was pleased with the play of center Ralph Drollinger, guard Jim Spillane and forward Rich Washington.

"Drollinger did an excellent job defensively. I am pleased with the way Spillane is coming along. Washington's play has been outstanding," he said.

USC coach Bob Boyd is just as happy after the Trojans opened their season by whipping LSU, 100-87.

He especially enjoyed talking about forward Bob Trowbridge, who was selected a Co-Player of the Week for his 29 points and fine defensive play.

"Bob is our best defensive forward," Boyd said. "LSU's defense was designed mainly to stop our guards, Biff Burrell and Gus Williams, so Bob was left open and he is a very fine open shooter — the best we have."

USC will be entertaining Oklahoma State and Utah at the Sports Arena Friday and Saturday.

There is a possibility freshman Earl Evans will play this week after sitting out the opener.

"Earl had the flu so he just stayed home," Boyd said. "He might be the best freshman ever at USC. I think he will prove it as he plays. He is just a fantastic prospect."

Loyola's Brad Dean was the other Co-Player of the Week for his 36 points in leading the Lions to a pair of wins over Southwest Missouri and Missouri Western in the Malibu Classic. He scored nine points in the final 2:30 to spark a 65-67 win over SW Missouri.

Guard Reggie Dantzler of Chapman College was the College Division Player of the Week. He scored 56 points and had 16 steals in the Panthers' wins over Occidental, 75-63, and La Verne, 86-66.

Adohr Farms provide the Player of the Week awards.

Other noteworthy nominations included UCLA's Drollinger, Long Beach State's Bob Gross, Biola's Jim Worthy and Whittier's Kent Wagner.

Quoting the coaches:

BOB MILLER, Cal State Los Angeles: "We're the only college team in Los Angeles with losses. We played poorly both nights in losing to Long Beach and Northridge. We allowed 14 lay-ins to give some idea of our defense. We're going to start two or three different people when we visit Fresno State Tuesday."

PETE CASSIDY, Cal State Northridge: "I'm happy with our defensive play and I know it will get better. Offensively, our timing was erratic and we looked confused at times. But I'm happy we didn't force a bad shot in the two games. I'm especially happy with Jack Dyck, who scored 34 points and grabbed 25 rebounds in the two games. We travel to Colorado State, Wyoming and Northern Colorado this week."

RICH RIDER, Chapman: "We enjoyed two fine victories and I felt our team played very well. Dantzler is a natural leader. We'll know more about

Bonita, Romans get home games

Both Hacienda League CIF 2-A football playoff contenders, Bonita and Royal Oak highs, have drawn home games for Friday night's quarter-finals.

Bonita (10-1) will host Suburban League champion Neff High (8-3) in an 8 p.m. kickoff at Bearcat Bowl in La Verne. Coach Pete Lopez' team has beaten Norco, 15-14, and Mayfair, 31-28. Neff has posted wins over Workman, 21-6, and Lawndale, 35-6.

Royal Oak (8-2-1) will entertain the top rated 2-A team, El Dorado (11-0), at Mt. San Antonio College at 8 p.m. Coach Len Mussack's Romans bested University, 20-9, and routed Yucaipa, 35-0.

South Hills (10-1) battles Hawthorne (8-3) in a 4-A matchup at a site yet to be announced while Bishop Amat (8-3) travels to East Los Angeles Junior College to play Pasadena (9-1) in an 8 p.m. encounter Friday.

Bob Reynolds resigns as Angels' president

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — Robert O. Reynolds, co-founder of the California Angels in 1960 with Gene Autry, announced Monday he was resigning as president and a member of the club's board of directors in order to devote more time to his business and family.

Reynolds announced his resignation in New Orleans where he was attending the annual winter baseball meeting, the Angels said here.

The Angels said his successor as president will be announced next spring.

Reynolds, 60, said he reached his decision to resign after a "great deal of thought" and in order "to devote more time to other business and to my family."

He said he was selling his ownership of approximately 20 per cent of Angels stock to Golden West Broadcasting Company, the Autry-owned firm which Reynolds also helped found. Reynolds also said board member J.D. Coleman was resigning his position and that other minority Angel stock was being sold to Golden West Broadcasting.

Reynolds, who starred as a football player at Stanford in 1934-35-36, made sports history when he became the only player to compete in three consecutive 60-minute games in the Rose Bowl.

Lewis fights Muniz tonight

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Twice a loser in bids to win Jose Napoles' welterweight title, Los Angeles veteran Hedgemon Lewis battles Armando Muniz of Los Angeles in a 10-round fight at the Forum.

Lewis, 28, formerly of Detroit, will take a 48-5-1 record against Muniz, who is 37-6-1.

In a bout with Napoles in Mexico City last Aug. 3, Lewis was stopped in nine rounds.

Lewis hopes a victory will land him a shot at the junior middleweight crown held by Oscar Albarado.

"I'll keep on fighting until the day I don't think I have a chance at a championship," Lewis said.

team after this week when we play Westmont, Colorado State and Wyoming."

DICK BAKER, Loyola athletic director: "Brad Dean was excellent. He is playing even better this year in his senior season. We are in the midst of a busy schedule with six games in eight nights."

GARY COLSON, Pepperdine: "We played the best first half of basketball any of my teams have played during my 18 years as a coach in our 97-71 win over Southwest Missouri. Guard Art Allen was the Most Valuable Player in the Malibu Classic. Ollie Matson Jr. came off the bench to score 30 points and grab 20 rebounds in only 36 minutes of action. But we suffered a blow with the loss of Billy Williams, who severely injured his right hand in an auto accident."

DWIGHT JONES, Long Beach State: "We're looking for a great game Wednesday night when we host the University of San Francisco. We'll certainly know how good we are after that game plus our two games in the Sun Devil Classic over the weekend. We're very happy with the play of Bob Gross in the win over Cal State Los Angeles. We should have the best shooting team during the three years I have been at Long Beach."

Hastings beats C-M

Stags' coach looks at all his players

By DON BRADLEY
P-B Staff Writer

Dave Wells doesn't like losing, especially by the scores his team is being beaten by. But right now he is more interested in getting a good look at every player in game action.

Even though the new Claremont-Mudd coach used 10 players as the Stags dropped a 77-51 tilt to visiting Hastings College of Nebraska Monday night, he still didn't give some of his players as much playing time as he would have liked.

"I told the team before the season started that I wanted to see every player," Wells explained. "I hope the starters don't get down, but the conference is what is really important."

"Potentially we have the makings of a good team," he continued. "And I think after we get five or six games under our belts, it will begin to show."

Hastings, (2-1) defending champion in its Nebraska district, got off to a cold start.

The Broncos didn't score a point for the first three minutes and 39 seconds and made only two in the first five minutes.

But the Stags (0-2) weren't doing a lot of scoring either and Hastings finally went ahead, 8-7, on Kert McKee's basket with 13:43 left in the half.

The two teams battled evenly with the lead changing hands until reserve Pat Hodges sank two free throws with 8:49 remaining. That put Hastings in front, 16-15, and the Broncos never again relinquished the lead.

They spurred to a 27-17 lead and held a 34-24 lead at the intermission.

In the second half, the closest Stags came was within three points. That was on Dave Waterhouse's bucket

Four local gridders on District club

Four area football players have been named to the NAIA All-District first team.

Pomona-Pitzer quarterback Larry Cenotto and tight end Biff Sherman are the offensive players honored. La Verne middle guard Jeff Butten and Azusa Pacific tackle Mike Standridge made it on defense.

Cenotto led the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (SCIAC) football team announced today.

On defense, La Verne first-team selections are middle guard Jeff Butten, sophomore line backer John Herrera, and defensive back Casey O'Gorman. O'Gorman was a first-team selection for the second straight year.

Butten was credited with 62 unassisted tackles and 99 assists.

Cenotto, who broke all Pomona College passing records, is a first-team selection for the second straight year. As a sophomore he was a second-team selection behind Wayne Estabrook of Whittier.

For the 1974 season, Cenotto completed 147 of 294 passes for 2,024 yards and 15 touchdowns. He averaged 236.6 yards per game total offense.

Nash suffered a knee injury and missed the pre-conference games. He was re-injured on the first play from scrimmage in the final game of the season.

But he averaged over 100 yards a game in the four games he started. His season totals are: 120 carries good for 578 yards which place him fourth in rushing despite missing so much action.

Conference champion Redlands and second-place Whittier dominated the list. Redlands placed a total of nine players on the first team, five on offense and four in defense. Whittier placed two on offense and four on defense for a total of six.

Roy VanderKallen of La Verne, who led the conference in rushing was a second-team selection. "Dandy Vandy" a junior, averaged an even five yards a carry with 846 yards on 168 carries.

'Ho' Charter Oak wins cage opener

Charter Oak High began its basketball season on a bright note Monday night but two others didn't fare as well as both San Dimas High and Webb School suffered defeats.

Charter Oak shot 61 percent in its 71-61 win over Mountain View.

Roosevelt Morris and Brian Harrison paced Charter Oak with 20 points apiece as Harrison shot a torrid 84 percent from the floor for the Lancers. Harrison also grabbed 12 rebounds.

Mike Moses contributed 12 points and 14 rebounds while Todd Kilde came off the bench to add 10 markers.

Jack Balderama paced Mountain View with 23 points and Gary Anson chipped in with 17.

Webb lost to Mary Star of the Sea, 45-42, while San Dimas was bowing to Baldwin Park, 67-56.

The Stars broke a 32-32 deadlock after three periods and outscored the Gauls, 13-10, in the final eight minutes. Webb spent the fourth quarter in foul trouble which enabled the hosts to gain their season-opening victory.

Forward Wally Pitts paced Webb with 16 counters and 11 rebounds while Matt Seiles added 10 points. Center Doug Seaborn had eight points and

'Hens seek first win

Pomona-Pitzer would like to ring up its first basketball win tonight.

The Sagehens (1-1) take on Cal Lutheran (1-1) at 8 p.m. in Memorial Gym.

But their job is complicated because center Geoff Northrup sprained an ankle in Saturday night's game at Westminster.

Northrup remains doubtful for tonight's game. The 6-5 sophomore has scored 37 points in the two games played. Despite leaving the game with nearly 10 minutes left Saturday, he was the 'Hens' leading scorer with 18 points and rebounder with 12.

Westmont won going away, 100-63.

"I guess the opening game (Friday night) against Hastings took too much out of us," said coach Les Nagler.

Chiefs, Bengals advance

The Chiefs and the Bengals registered first round victories in the Pomona Parks and Recreation Division II single elimination flag football tournament being held at Palomares Park.

The Chiefs routed the Jets, 52-0, in the opening contest that saw Aaron Burns rush for 125 yards and score five touchdowns. Shown Nelson was the top defensive player for the Jets.

In the second game, the Giants outlasted the Bengals, 26-14, in a passing game that saw Giant quarterback Mark Graber throw three TD passes and three two-point conversions. He also ran 25-yards for another score. Greg Watson was on the receiving end of all three conversions.

Robert Smith paced the Bengals with one touchdown and a two-point conversion. Dave Clark, playing both offense and defense, was the Bengals' top lineman.

Action resumes tonight with the Eagles playing the Patriots at 6 p.m. and the Rams and Cowboys squaring off at 7 p.m.

School bus drivers earn safety award

Bus drivers in the Rowland Unified School District earned a second-place award in a recent fleet safety contest sponsored by the National Safety Council, Greater Los Angeles Chapter.

The drivers' award was received in a competition with other school districts of comparable size.

Contest rules are based upon reportable accidents and mileage. A chargeable accident refers to any incident which results in property damage regardless of cost or fault.

Typical reportable offenses may include any accidental scratch on the bus occurring while in motion, such as a free limb scraping the bus or outside mirror hitting a post. All but one of Rowland's 20 bus drivers are women and each handles a bus with an average weight of 21,000 pounds.

Each bus driver, according to Clem Minehart, transportation foreman, is responsible for fueling the bus and making a daily inspection of some 21 items which insure the safe operation of the vehicle. If any one item is not functioning, the bus driver will not take the bus out, but will use an auxiliary vehicle.

Each driver in the district, (some have been with the district from 10 to 20 years) has won at least one safe driver award, with the average holding three safety awards, said Minehart.

Drivers who have helped win Rowland's award include LeVonne Webster, Henrietta Allen, Phyllis Whitney, Doris Pinto, Joan Adauto, Marcella Craig, Elsie Watson, Barbara Throop, Ruthie Chapman, Genevieve Fitzpatrick, Janis Richcreek, LaRaine Orchard, Sue Haskell, Norma Phelps, Patricia Placencia, Ella Rose, Kim Hagan, Darlene Ernsten, Elizabeth Boutwell and Earl Davis, the only male bus driver and an employee with the district for 21 years.

Check cage location if parrot's too hot

DEAR DR. MILLER: Captain Cook, my parakeet, went through a hot summer without much complaint. About the heat, I mean. But now, half the time he acts like he's too hot and sits around in his cage with his wings drooped down like they do when they're overheated. The room temperature is always under 75 degrees, so how do you account for him acting like that? He feels good. — O. W.

Dear O. W.: Check out the temperature in Captain Cook's cage. This is where the action is. If he's roosting (and roosting) near a radiator or if he's blocking a blast of hot air from a furnace vent, a nominal reading on a thermometer across the room would be of little comfort. A caged bird corner that's suitable in summer may prove dangerous in winter as heaters are turned on. Captain Cook's quarters should be secured from any blasts of air, hot or cold.

DEAR DR. MILLER: Molly, our Gordon setter, is supposed to have puppies in just a couple of weeks. She's big enough now that she could have them any day from the look of her. Should I worry because I can't feel any puppy movement? — D. M.

Dear D. M.: By now you'll undoubtedly know whether worry was necessary. I hope you had Molly's doctor check her out and answer your question, though perhaps you missed fetal movements because of improper timing. There can normally be long

Water saving

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — A typical American family can save up to 150 gallons of water a day by various measures, economists at Rockwell International Corp. say. Among them: use a dishpan for washing dishes, turn off the water tap while shaving, take a shower instead of a bath, run the washing machine only with a full load of clothes, and keep the water heater at an even setting.

intervals between puppy play periods perceptible through the abdominal wall.

DEAR DR. MILLER: Ollie once had a lot of trouble with a yellowish brown film on his teeth. It would turn into rock-hard tartar by the next day, and the doctor would have to scrape it off. He had me treat it by rubbing down the gums and this finally caused the stain to disappear. I quit the rubbing because Ollie didn't like having his mouth messed around with anyhow. Now the stain is coming back, only this time it's black, and even on the tongue. I can't understand it. Appetite and everything about him appears to be good but for his black mouth. — T. D.

Dear T. D.: Ollie's dark dentures and tongue could be caused by several things but are most likely due to a fungal attack. His veterinarian may prescribe somewhat the same approach as before, though using a different dentifrice.

$115,573 from state for methadone program

SAN BERNARDINO (CNS) — The Board of Supervisors Monday approved a proposal to establish a Methadone maintenance program in the West End which will be supported by $115,573 in state funds.

Robert E. Russell, health care services administrator said the money will permit 150 new patients to be admitted to the program and will bring the number involved in the county wide program to 360.

He also said establishment of the West End program will eliminate a daily round trip to San Bernardino for the 90 west end residents now being treated in the program. No definite location for a clinic was determined.

"With the establishment of this program we will be able to transfer these clients to the West End program in increments of 20 each month in addition to being able to add 60 new clients from the west end to that program.

"This action will also allow the county program to enroll additional clients from San Bernardino and adjacent areas, thus reducing the existing waiting list of approximately 500 patients," Russell said.

City's 'Bank Block' now regarded as historic site

SAN BERNARDINO (CNS) — The board of Supervisors Monday approved a recommendation to designate "The Bank Block" the first commercial area in the City of Ontario as a point of historical interest.

$100 a year increase on $40,000 home

School board sets tax-hike election

The Claremont Unified School District board Monday night set March 3, 1975 for a revenue limit election when district voters will be asked to approve a tax rate increase of about $1 per $100 assessed valuation.

If the voters were to approve the proposal, the revenue limit per average daily attendance would increase $108 from $1,072 to $1,180.

For the owner of a $40,000 home, the revenue limit election would boost his taxes $100 a year.

The district is faced with deficit spending during the next two school years because of Senate Bill 90's formulas, and the school board has chosen the election as one of several means to cut the anticipated discrepancy between income and expenditures.

The board has been told the district will be confronted with a discrepancy of $981,221 between anticipated income and expenditures if the district is to continue its present level of educational programs.

The board may also close a school, reduce staff and classes, and increase pupil-teacher ratio among options to be taken.

In other matters, the board took no action on increasing the words for a school board candidate's statement of qualifications from a maximum of 200 to a maximum of 400 words.

The board decided that the district shall bill local school board candidates for the cost of printing and handling their statements of qualifications after the coming election.

The county registrar-recorder's office informed the district that it can no longer bill in advance a school board candidate who wants his statement of qualifications distributed.

A state Supreme Court ruling said that a candidate is not required to pay such a deposit.

The county recorder-registrar has turned the responsibility of billing a school board candidate over to the local districts, who cannot bill the candidate until after the election.

The county will include the cost of printing and mailing candidates' state-

A new look at Bonelli Park: horse patrolman

Bonelli Regional Park in San Dimas has its first mounted patrolman.

He is Brent Lemmon who uses his own horse, Hank, and, according to Bonelli Park ranger Bob Weeks, is very well received by park visitors.

Lemmon began his mounted patrol in October. Currently he is attending the Los Angeles Sheriff's Department Academy. He will be back on duty in the park in February.

Weeks said that in the development of Bonelli Park, a complete equestrian center is planned with riding trails running through the south side.

"We started our mounted patrol as an experimental project," said Weeks. "Lemmon had a horse, so he was chosen. He has been a big help in getting into the back country and along the southside of the reservoir."

Weeks said that eventually he expects to see all the Bonelli park patrolmen mounted. The park has a staff of eight who patrol the park 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Study of diagonal runway at OIA gets cool approval

The Los Angeles Airport Commission meeting in Ontario Monday gave its approval for a five-month feasibility study of the proposed diagonal runway at Ontario International Airport, but offered little enthusiasm for the project.

The diagonal runway proposal is the

Councilmen turn down high density condominium plan

The La Verne City Council turned down an estimated $35,000 a year in property taxes rather than relax its residential restrictions in La Verne Heights Monday night.

The council denied a request by Pomona developer Clyde Warren for permission to build 140 condominium units at the northwest corner of Base Line Road and Wheeler Avenue — approximately eight units to the acre.

The parcel is now zoned for planned residential, three units to the acre.

The council action was split 4-1 with Councilman Frank Johnson casting a negative vote. Johnson said he was willing to listen to a planned residential proposal of up to six to an acre.

The area had been changed from residential to commercial six years ago when Warren bought the property, but at the insistence of surrounding residents it went residential again, three to the acre, in 1972.

Warren claimed he was entitled to consideration now for a compromise — eight to the acre — because he owned the property long before the present homeowners moved in.

He said the 140 units would generate more than $130,000 a year in taxes, of which the council would have about one fourth. He insisted that not only would the homes be environmentally attractive but would be a benefit to La Verne.

"It's the best use we could make of that parcel," he told the council. "I say that based on my 25 years of experience as a developer. Believe me, it would not be a party to any action that would be detrimental to the community."

Mrs. Mary Ellen Fisher, who said she owned part of the land, asked the council not to "tie our hands so we can't get our money out of our land."

She said there was a strong philosophical question involved as to whose rights the council should protect: those of the old-time residents who had bought the land years ago, or the homeowners who moved there in the past few years.

But Tom Hanson of 1328 Danton Ave., told the council that 110 persons have signed petitions asking denial for the condominium project. He said the residents supported the present zone of three residences to the acre.

He was backed up by nearly a dozen residents who spoke against relaxing the restrictions.

Councilman Alan Mackey said he spoke with residents in the area and "they were 99 to one in favor of retaining the present zoning."

And Mayor Mike Morales commented that the council has been working "very, very hard to bring density down, and now we are down. The wishes of the majority should rule."

The property is one which was earmarked years ago for a shopping center with an Alpha Beta Market and a Thrifty Drug store. After the plans for the shopping center were rejected two years ago, the supermarkets moved down to Foothill Boulevard and are now under construction there.

In denying Warren's request, the council was upholding the Planning Commission which had recommended rejection of the higher density last month.

outgrowth of a land use study for the areas of Ontario immediately west of the airport and is aimed at eliminating noise pollution over residential neighborhoods. If the runway was built, aircraft would take off in a more southerly direction over areas that are now vacant. The present main runway at the airport runs east to west.

In asking for the five-month period to study the proposal, Clifton Moore, Los Angeles Airports General Manager, indicated that his staff would attempt to determine if the runway was financially feasible.

He repeatedly stressed that the financing would pose "tremendous problems" requiring financial participation by the local community, county, state and federal agencies.

"It would be tremendously expensive, far beyond the ability of this department to develop by itself," said Moore.

Moore told the board of commissioners that the replacement runway needed at OIA will cost approximately $6 million, and that the proposed diagonal runway would be much costlier since it would require the relocation of streets and railway tracks.

He said that consideration of the diagonal runway proposal should in no way impede development of the replacement runway, which must be built to allow the new wide-body aircraft to land at OIA.

He added that the diagonal runway proposal exceeds any responsibilities of the city of Los Angeles under its joint powers agreement with Ontario for the operation and future ownership of OIA.

At a luncheon prior to the commission meeting, Commission President Elizabeth Armstrong warned residents that the proposed diagonal runway will not solve the problem of noise overnight, even if it is constructed.

She said that it would only move noise to a new location.

She estimated that if all economic and environmental studies proved the runway feasible, it would still require three to five years to become operational.

Of more importance for quiet airport operation, she said, was the construction of the replacement runway. The runway would allow the quieter wide-bodied jets to use OIA and would shift noise patterns 2,200 feet to the east, away from the residential areas west of the airport.

County ruled liable for damages by flood

San Bernardino County Monday was found liable by a Superior Court jury for damages suffered by about 70 individuals, businesses and families in the 1969 Cucamonga flood.

A 90-day extension to a second phase of the trial, to determine amounts of money owed plaintiffs, was agreed to by attorneys for both sides.

The plaintiffs had asked $4 million in the original complaint. An out-of-court settlement now is a possibility.

In a series of 10 verdicts, ending the first phase of the trial which began Sept. 16, the jury agreed that two defendants were not liable for damages and six plaintiffs were not entitled to damages.

The defendants found not liable were the San Bernardino County Flood Control District and the Pacific Rock and Gravel Co. of Upland.

The six plaintiffs found not entitled to damages reside north of Foothill Boulevard. One of the six is the Aloha Lanes bowling alley.

The 70 plaintiffs entitled to damages under the ruling are south of Foothill Boulevard. In this group is the Filippi Winery.

The county's liability stemmed from the 1967 construction of the new Carnelian street underpass, near Cucamonga Creek. It replaced a railway embankment, attorneys said, and evidence showed the underpass funneled water from the creek and changed its course.

In 1938 floods, the railway embankment forced the water back into the creek, they argued.

Jurors indicated they followed the legal theory of "inverse condemnation," which is based on alleged taking or damage to private property by some public action. They rejected the theory that defendants had maintained public property in a dangerous condition.

Only actual damages to real or personal property can be paid according to the law that applies to the case, attorneys said. There will be no punitive or other type damages.

The jury deliberated 3½ days before reaching its verdicts. Judge Beach Vasey presided.

The Cucamonga area was flooded Jan. 25 and Feb. 25, 1969, causing widespread property damage.

Counterproposals fly

Street barricade stirs new resident discontent

The temporary closure of Monroe Street at Orange Grove Avenue boiled over in controversy Monday night as the Pomona City Council heard the divergent viewpoints of neighborhood residents.

The street was closed two months ago at the request of the residents between Orange Grove and McKinley avenues. The residents are now divided, however, on whether the temporary barricades should become permanent, moved to another location or removed.

More than a dozen residents addressed the council during the lengthy debate and offered the results of at least three "neighborhood surveys," all of which were contradictory or incomplete.

Thoroughly confused over what the residents want, the council eventually voted to hold the matter over two weeks pending a house-to-house survey of the entire neighborhood. The council action came following a motion to remove the barricade which died on 2-2 vote.

"I want the staff to go to each resident and find out how they feel," said Councilman Adrian Wright.

The entire problem of traffic on Monroe Street centers around the streets odd alignment with Orange Grove Avenue and poor traffic control at the intersection of Orange Grove and McKinley Avenues.

Many motorists were using Monroe Street to bypass the slow and complicated traffic signal at Orange Grove and McKinley. In so doing, the traffic volume on Monroe had become four or five times greater than normal for a residential street.

The city staff had recommended that the temporary barricade become permanent, and that a landscaped cul-de-sac be built at a cost of $5,000.

Residents opposed to the recommendation, however, urged that other alternatives be explored, such as closing Monroe at McKinley Avenue, closing Monroe at Bradford Street, or placing four-way stop signs at Monroe and Bradford.

Don Bollinger, speaking on behalf of the owner of Frantz Cleaners at Orange Grove and Garey Avenue, stated that the residents have not had the situation properly explained to them.

"I don't feel the residents are sure of the alternatives open to them. Therefore, the matter hasn't been studied enough," he said.

One of the prime concerns of those opposed is the delay a permanent barrier might cause in the response time of emergency vehicles to the neighborhood.

Both the police and fire departments, however, have informed the council that closing the street would not result in any significant delay in an emergency.

Ronald Kranzer, director of public works, informed the council that some of the traffic problems on Monroe may be lessened with the completion of a new traffic pattern on the northbound lanes of Orange Grove at the San Bernardino Freeway.

Police department to auction items

The Upland Police Department will hold its annual auction of unclaimed property Saturday beginning at 10 a.m. in the parking lot north of police headquarters, 177 E. D Street.

Among the items to be auctioned off to the highest bidders are numerous bicycles, bicycle parts, mechanic and machinist tools, automobile supplies and miscellaneous items.

Police said that all the property has been held in custody of the department for at least six months and never claimed. In keeping with state law, no firearms will be sold.

More divorced dads getting custody now

More and more divorced fathers of late are getting legal custody of the youngsters. This occurred rarely 25 years ago. Just about all grownups have observed this change of events with at least mild interest. Few realize, however, that 100 years ago the father almost invariably got custody of the children when he and the mother separated. Over this country's entire history, the fathers have held legal control over the offspring far longer than have the mothers.

IT'S COMMONLY claimed but rarely explained why elephants never forget. A little known fact about elephants is that they can't turn their heads to look behind them. They've just got to remember, possibly.

RINGS

Q: "Don't the girls go with their boyfriends to the jewelers to buy the engagement rings in most cases?"

A: Not in most. But in 42 out of 100 instances, they do. And in 42 out of 100, the young men go alone. In 12 out of 100 such visits to the jewelers, friends or relatives also make the trip. And as previously reported, in four out of every 100 engagements, the girls go by themselves for their rings.

ARE YOU AWARE there are such things as mugger bees? Honey bees that send out raiding parties to attack other honey bees. Three or four of these muggers jump on a worker, beat him helpless, then steal his nectar. Hives law enforcement to protect the innocent and punish the guilty is said to be hopelessly inadequate.

ANN LANDERS

College girl who knows score sticks to her guns and passes on advice

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a reasonably attractive, sensible girl, age 18, and in college. My friends consider me vivacious and fun to be with. I am a virgin and have every intention of remaining so until marriage.

I'm writing about my boyfriend, but it is HIS problem and I'm not going to let him make it MINE. He says he loves me and that I'm torturing him to death because he needs more action.

"H" happens to be very good-looking, bright, knows all the right words, and is accustomed to getting what he wants. But the fact that he can't get it from me is driving him crackers.

I'm not writing for advice, Ann. I don't need any. I'm just hoping you will print my letter so others out there like me will know they don't have to give a guy everything he asks for. And I'm not afraid of losing him either. I've already told him to shove off if the "torture" gets too much for him, but he still sticks like flypaper. — In Tact

Dear In: Sounds as if you've got it all together, honey. Cheers! A letter like yours is a real day-brightener. (Are you listening, students?)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I were married young, but we were very much in love and I was sure it was the thing to do.

We now have four children (the oldest is 10) and I never thought our marriage was anything but happy. He never complained about anything and our children are truly beautiful. My husband has always had more freedom than most men. I've never nagged or questioned him and his home was his palace — or so I thought.

Now for the shocker: Three weeks ago he told me out of a clear blue sky that he wants his freedom — no reason except that he married too young (we were both 19) and now that he's just turned 30, he feels he must be allowed to "try his wings."

Where did I fail? — Lonely and Heartsick

Dear L.: You didn't fail. Your husband did. He failed to grow up and accept the responsibilities of marriage.

After 11 years and four children, it's a fine time to discover he has "untried wings."

My guess is that after a little high flying, his wings will get tired and he'll turn into a homing pigeon.

Don't make the dumb mistake of giving him a divorce. Insist on separate maintenance. And if you're smart, you'll leave him alone until he gets his head screwed on straight (with apologies to Herb Klein).

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Can you use one more letter on a Night Owl who is married to a Morning Canary? It can work because we've been happy together for 32 years. The secret is to have respect for one another's Prime Time.

I am nearly 60 years old and my peak efficiency is between midnight and 9 a.m. I have to be at work at 5 a.m. and the air is beautiful at that hour of the morning. I am also proud that at my age I can accomplish things when most folks are laid out. Of course, when I fold up at 4 p.m. some people laugh and make bum jokes, but I don't mind. Someone has to take care of the world during those odd hours.

I wonder how many people realize what goes on while most of the world sleeps? Tell 'em, Ann. Oddballs like me help keep the wheels going 'round. — Owl From Minnesota.

Dear Owl: I wouldn't call you an oddball. You sound great. The world needs Nocturnals as well as Diurnals. Bless you, Dad.

It's not always easy to recognize love, especially the first time around. Acquaint yourself with the guidelines. Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Love or Sex and How To Tell the Difference." ## Football cheaper in the cheap seats

By JOSEPH H. FIRMAN

Now that football season is almost here, and the recession is in full flower, it is time for every sports fan to estimate the price of a pair of end-zone tickets to a Rams game, the thrill of "actually being there as it happens," to the fun of watching the game on TV and the thrill of looking at your bank account the day after and still finding something there.

You can still get ducats to the remaining Rams games, if you dig the pe-ris-tyle end of the Coliseum. All you need is an oxygen mask as you clamber up to the 77th row — at least it's above the smog cover. Your view of the game is markedly similar to that from the Goodyear blimp — which is cruising along 11 rows below you.

There is no question that "being there" is more fun than watching it on TV. The stadium crowded with jeering fans, the smell of the hot dogs, the foam of the beer — out of sight! You get the WHOLE PICTURE at a game — the fights, the muggers at work, the streakers. You get an elbow in your eye when the touchdown pass is launched; you are in the men's room when the fumble is recovered. And no instant replay. If you're not there watching with both your eyeballs, it never happened.

How much pleasanter to watch the game on the tube in the comfort of your home. No long drive (gas $6.10, parking fee ($2.50), baby sitter charge ($6.20), program ($1), hot dogs (four at 65 cents each), beers (eight at 90 cents each), peanuts (four at 35 cents each.) At that rate you could feed Bangladesh for a week.

"Hey sucker, I watched the game on television for free!" chortles your neighbor. "Best seat in the house for nix!"

Sounds lovely. But was it "for free"? Granted he didn't have to fight traffic, scuffle with ushers, battle with other frantic fans. What actually did that game cost him, watching on his living room sofa "for nix"?

Leave out considerations of electricity on home and tube, heating and light, etc., friend neighbor probably put out a pretty penny for that free football game he saw. Beers at 35 cents the can out of the reefer; turkey sandwiches left over from Thanksgiving; nuts, potato chips, pretzels, munched at lib while watching James Harris' heroics. By the end of the afternoon — considering the cost of lettuce, mayonnaise, bread, potato chips and beer, your friend probably paid as much for his afternoon in front of the tube as if he'd gone to the game. Add a cup of coffee with a couple spoonfuls of sugar, and the tab has just doubled.

You may not like to see football games in person; but it's a lot cheaper than staying at home.

THE DOCTOR COMMENTS

Rash that is itchy is not syphilis

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — We are hearing so much about syphilis today, I wish you would give me a few pointers. Are old age syphilis and the syphilis young people have the same disease.

I have heard the chancre is the first sign and would that come on the buttocks, and would it come in the same place three or four times a year? Does it itch?

I have heard something about a rash, is that so?

DEAR READER — Syphilis is a contagious disease, and the same germ causes it in all age groups. Even if you are 100 and are exposed to the germ and do not have immunity you may develop the disease.

People often think of syphilis as a disease of young people, but it is important in today's free, uninhibited society to remember that age is no protection. Older people are far more active sexually than used to be appreciated. With the lessening of prejudices against older people, there have been some further changes in sexual behavior which increase the chances of venereal disease in this age group.

The chance is the same in all ages. It is a small sore and commonly appears on the sexual organs, not the buttocks. It occurs only once in the first few weeks of the illness and does not occur again. It is painless and does not itch. If you have a rash and it itches, it is not syphilis. The rash that occurs later in untreated syphilis doesn't itch.

Some people who have had untreated syphilis develop an immunity and in effect the disease is cured by the body's own defense mechanism. These people are not likely to get syphilis again any more than you are apt to get chicken pox again, if you have already had it. They won't transmit the disease, either.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have two daughters, aged 5 and 1. My older daughter has had the smallpox vaccination. My doctor recently told me the shot was not necessary any longer. This worries me. If all children stop receiving it, isn't an outbreak of small-pox possible, as with the case of measles?

DEAR READER — The World Health Organization thinks that smallpox is on its way to being an extinct disease — the world's first example of complete disappearance of a disease from the globe.

Smallpox is dependent upon humans to survive. When the number of cases of human smallpox becomes so small the organisms can't produce enough new organisms to avoid becoming extinct. It is something like the wildlife problem. If the population gets too small for a species, they become extinct.

Even the recent outbreak of smallpox in Asia does not dampen the World Health Organization hopes. So, very soon now there should never be another outbreak of even one case of smallpox anywhere on the earth. The risk is already so small that the risk of vaccination complications is greater than that of getting the disease itself. You can stop worrying about that problem.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Tips on how to beat the sugar crisis

DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Crisis of the Month Club has just named sugar as its selection for January.

"With prices rising toward $1 per pound, sugar has become exorbitant enough to rank with electricity as one of the bugaboos of inflation," the club's announcement said.

"Unless something is done soon, many Americans will be unable to afford sweetness and light."

The pattern by now is all too familiar. As with energy, the United States expends more sweetness than it produces and therefore is dependent on imports.

So sugar exporters double the price every two or three days. The impact of the upsurge is particularly acute in December, owing to the demand for sugar plums and other holiday goodies.

Various programs designed to make the United States self-sufficient in sweetness are being considered. But even the most sanguine estimates put realization of that goal at least 10 years away.

Once again, in consequence, the nation is forced to rely on the handy household helpful hints industry to see us through the crisis.

For the past year, the industry has been pouring out a heavy volume of tips on energy conservation. Thus it will take some time to gear up for sugar saving tip production. However, a few such hints are beginning to reach the hard-pressed consumer.

Drink fruit juice instead of pop; frost only the top layer of the cake; eat dill pickles rather than sweet pickles —these are a sampling of the output thus far.

Should you need other stop-gap measures to tide you over until sugar saving tip production reaches full capacity, here are a few you might try: —When serving Chinese food, omit the sweet-and-sour pork and substitute a strictly sour pork dish.

—Likewise refrain from eating sweet potatoes, sweet peas and sweetbreads.

—Mix sugar with water to form a simple syrup and pour it in an ice tray to freeze. Use these frozen sugar cubes to sweeten your coffee, tea or whatever.

Chances are you will finish drinking it before the cubes finish thawing, thereby using less sugar.

—Go through your medicine cabinet, collect all the pills you no longer take and remove the sugar coating. It can be used to sweeten other things.

—Skip the candy canes this Christmas. Go to a medical supply store and get some real canes instead.

—Start a bee colony in your spare bedroom and use the honey it produces as a sweetener. Or, better yet, learn to gather nectar from flowers and make your own honey.

—Plant a honeysuckle vine outside your door and suck on it for dessert.

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Wednesday, Dec. 4, 1974

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You expect more from others today than you should. You'll misinterpret a friend's independent behavior as disloyalty.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) There will be disruptions on the home front. Family members won't co-operate properly. Don't be a principal offender.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be extremely tactful in handling subordinates today. One of them has an old grudge smoldering that's about to ignite.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your material picture looks good for now, but there's a leak that should be plugged. It's your tendency to spend foolishly.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll be far more tolerant and patient today with outsiders than you will be with your own family.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Another's actions will anger you. You're more likely to keep it to yourself than to let him know about it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Most of the time you try to be fair and reasonable. Today, you're overly protective about things you deem are yours.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't push yourself beyond the limits of your energies. You'll only be frustrated if you take on too much now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Avoid the company of one today with whom you've had cross words recently. A thoughtless remark could set off new sparks.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Someone you know well is a trifle too curious about something you consider personal. He'll be prying again today.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You're likely to yield today to another's wishes and act against your better judgment if you don't stand up to the pressure.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) One that you'll team up with on a chore is too independent to be a good co-worker. He'll try to boss you if you let him.

your birthday Dec. 4

Your interest in new subjects will perk up considerably this year. You'll be eager for new knowledge that can be used for self-improvement and advancement.
